VIEW OF HOT SANDS FROM THE BRIDGE

View of Kelowna's "Hot Sands" and the Regatta site in the background is a popular visitor photo "must". But it is doubtful whether the angle above has ever been taken before.

Intrepid and athletic Cameraman John English climbed all the way to the top of one of the main towers to take it. He had to be restrained from using a teletype lens, however, to obtain a closer shot of the bathing beauties. It was explained to him this would have defeated the object of the exercise.

Small But Strong Red Group May Hold Key In Greek Crisis

ATHENS (AP)—A small but well-organized pro-Communist party may decide the outcome of ousted premier George Papandreu's struggle to regain power in Greece.

The United Democratic Left, known as EDA, has been active in the demonstrations staged on Papandreu's behalf since King Constantine fired the 77-year-old leader in a power showdown July 15.

In a giant funeral march Friday for a left-wing riot victim, EDA representatives were with the 150,000 marchers, keeping them under control in the face

DE GAULLE WEARS A BRITISH STRIPE

LONDON (AP)—A British pyjama manufacturer said today that Mrs. Charles de Gaulle has bought the French president a pair of British sleeping tops, size 44.

The pyjamas are patterned in the regimental stripes of Britain's famous Brigade of Guards, which played a heroic part in Wellington's defeat of Napoleon and the French at Waterloo 150 years ago.

"The French have gone mad about our stripes," said Derek Rose, deputy director of the pyjama manufacturer, Ben Sout, of North London.

He said Mrs. de Gaulle bought the pyjamas in a Paris store handling the British firm's goods. The price was $1 franc ($18.00).

New Curbs On Nuclear Arms Topic For Talks In Geneva

WASHINGTON (AP)—William C. Foster, director of the U.S. arms control and disarmament agency, flies to Geneva today for a new round of talks with the Soviet Union and 15 other countries on proposals to ban all nuclear weapons tests and prevent the spread of such armaments.

Officials said he will have some new proposals to make. They were not, however, very optimistic about the prospects for progress toward an agreement with the Soviet Union.

The meeting of the 17-nation disarmament committee opens Tuesday. Foster is expected to make his proposals at an early stage in the proceedings.

W. C. FOSTER
... reduce A-arms

MUNICH, West Germany (Reuters)—Averell Harriman, the United States president's special ambassador, said today the United States will not trade its plans for a NATO nuclear force for an agreement with Russia on non-proliferation of nuclear weapons.

Harriman, who flew here today for talks with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, was asked about reported West German fears that such an exchange is possible.

"Our position on the multilateral nuclear force is unchanged," he said.

Natural Gas Blast Kills Worker

TESCOTT, Kan. (AP)—An explosion and fire at a natural gas pipeline near Tescott killed J. R. Johnson, a workman from Woodward, Okla., and injured 15 others today. Most of the victims were burned by a pressure gas fire in the 24-inch pipeline.

Urgent Call To Halt Nuclear Spread

LONDON (AP)—Britain's disarmament minister called today for urgent international action to stop the rise of at least five new nuclear powers "in the next few years."

Two "Missing" Soviet Leaders Show Up

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Soviet leaders who had been absent from the public scene for more than a month reappeared today. Nikolai V. Podgorniy, the second man to Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev in the party secretariat, arrived in Sevastopol, Moscow radio reported. Genady I. Voronov, a member of the presidium that runs the party, appeared at a Kremlin reception.

Stock Exchanges Plan To Beat Strike

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto and Montreal stock exchanges have pooled services in an inter-city airlift of securities and documents as the strike of postal employees here

Sato Suffers Stinging Loss

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo voters handed Premier Eisaku Sato's conservative government a stinging defeat today in municipal elections in which corruption and graft were the chief issues.

It was the first time since the Second World War that political control of the world's largest capital has been wrested from the conservatives.

In almost complete reversal, Sato's Liberal Democrats had only 37 seats in the 130-member metropolitan assembly, compared with its previous 66 seats.

It was the second defeat in Tokyo for the Liberal Democrats within a month. Their candidates were wiped out in the Tokyo constituency during the July 4 upper house election.

The assembly result meant control of the administration of Tokyo, seat of a pro-Western government, has gone to a left-dominated opposition.

A record low 58.58 per cent of Tokyo's 1,500,000 registered voters cast ballots Friday.

The Socialists won 44 seats—a gain of 11 over their pre-election strength. The Communists quadrupled their seats by winning nine.

More Rioting At Bangalore

BANGALORE, India (Reuters)—Borneo-throwing demonstrators smashed six buses and forced public transport here to shut down today at the start of a two-day session of the All-India Congress Committee.

Nine demonstrators had been arrested by noon in addition to 27 held after demonstrations Friday.

It was the third consecutive day of demonstrations in this capital city of Mysore state against government plans to hold elections soon in the former Portuguese territory of Goa.

The demonstrators, who defied a police ban on meetings and processions, chanted slogans against Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri on his arrival Friday.

The states of Mysore and Maharashtra both have claims on Goa, sandwiched between them. Mysore is demanding postponement of elections to determine Goa's future until 1973.

Wilson Pledges Export Boost

NEWTOWN, Wales (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson said today his government will announce in the next few days measures to "give direct assistance to our exports."

Wilson, addressing a Labor party rally, did not disclose what the measures would be. Britain has a chronic deficit in international payments because of an excess of imports over exports.

The prime minister coupled the promise of help for exporters with a denunciation of what he described as a lackadaisical approach to selling abroad by British manufacturers.

He said he hopes within the next few months "to bring home area by area, and firm by firm, to complacent and prosperous manufacturers, the need to get off their backsides and work for Britain."

Driver Held In Jail Break

LONDON (AP)—Police accused a 27-year-old automobile mechanic today of being the getaway driver in the July 8 break-out from Wandsworth Jail by Great Train robber Ronald Biggs and three other convicts.

George Ronald Leslie, picked up by Scotland Yard two days ago, appeared in court with three other men also charged with helping to stage the escape.

The getaway vehicle was a furniture truck, and police claimed Leslie "told them: 'I didn't have a gun. I just did the driving.'"

Lawyers for Leslie said he will plead not guilty.

South Koreans Slay Agents From North

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean troops and policemen killed two North Korean Communist agents and captured another in a clash 70 miles east of Seoul, military sources said Saturday.

The site of the gun battle is 30 miles south of the demilitarized zone which separates South Korea from the Communist North.

Mailmen Ignore End-Strike Plea

Gunpowder Clue In CPA Crash

VANCOUVER (CP)—The wreckage of an airliner that broke apart and sent 32 persons to their deaths July 8 has turned up traces of an element and a compound that go together in explosives.

The findings were made here Friday by chemists in an RCMP crime laboratory.

An official of the department of transport said the crash investigation now will be turned over completely to the RCMP.

A transport department RCMP announcement said evidence of carbon and potassium nitrate indicates a low-velocity explosive such as gunpowder.

Experts here said Friday night that a low-velocity explosive would have to be intentionally detonated. No accidental bump or blow could set it off.

The traces were found in fragments of a rear port washroom of the Canadian Pacific Airline DC-4B.

Less than a week after the crash near 100 Mile House, B.C., investigation revealed that an explosion in this area caused the plane to blow apart.

The toilet bowl had been flattened out, the floor dished as if pushed down violently, and the wash basin was bent closed by a force from beneath.

Dr. Thomas How, regional director of air services for the transport department, said air transport authorities will leave the case to the RCMP and will not hold a public inquiry.

Dr. Warren Lovell of Seattle, a top North American expert in crash investigations, has said that the blast had to be just enough to rupture the plane's inner compression skin.

The rush of air out of the cabin could have ruptured the outer skin, creating a break that would have caused the plane to crash.

Spread Of Walkout Expected To Take Place Over Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Strikes by Canadian post office workers are expected to spread during the weekend, despite a return-to-work appeal by an Ontario county court judge named by the federal government to study the salary level of postal employees.

Nearly half of Canada's 22,000 postal workers could be off their jobs by Monday when leaders of the Postal Workers Brotherhood meet in Ottawa to determine national policy.

By early today a rash of unauthorized walkouts by letter carriers and sorters in about 20 centres in British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec had involved almost 10,000 workers. The walkouts started Thursday morning, sparked by Montreal and Vancouver postal employees.

First reaction Friday by strikers was both cool and pessimistic to an appeal by Judge Jacob Carroll Anderson of Belleville, Ont., that they return to their jobs so he can spend his time investigating recent civil service salary increases.

"There's no need to stay out," he said at an Ottawa press conference. "They've made their point and got a review. It would make my job much easier if they returned to their jobs."

Strike leaders in Toronto and Montreal indicated they would ignore the 63-year-old judge's plea.

"Our point wasn't to get a review; it was to get the pay increases we asked for in the very beginning," said Alex Powers, strike chairman of 1,700 Toronto letter carriers who walked off their jobs at 8 a.m. Friday.

Book Says Mike Rockefeller Probably Eaten By Cannibals

BRISBANE (Reuters)—A book on Australian bookends today says Michael Rockefeller, explorer and anthropologist son of a New York governor Nelson Rockefeller, probably was eaten by cannibals in New Guinea four years ago.

Rockefeller, 23, was last seen trying to swim ashore from a drifting raft off the coast of what was then Dutch New Guinea.

His father chartered a plane and flew to New Guinea, but a 10-day search of the desolate coast northwest of Merauke during November, 1961, proved fruitless.

The author, former Adelaide journalist Keith Willey, says in the book, Assignment New Guinea, that reports of native refugees who fled from Indonesian New Guinea indicate Rockefeller reached the shore safely but was captured by primitive Agastri tribesmen.

He writes: "It is a miserable region, covered by mangrove and eucalyptus swamps and thinly peopled by Agastri tribesmen, former headhunters, but regarded in recent years as fairly peaceable."

"Food is scarce and experienced native hunters are few," he says.

At the time, theories of cannibalism were discounted, but officials spoke with in Daru had become convinced that Rockefeller was eaten."

Exports Through B.C. Ports Reached All-Time High In 1964

VICTORIA (CP)—Exports through British Columbia ports reached an all-time high in 1964, Trade Minister Ralph Loffmark said Friday.

The $1,622,000,000 in exports was up 16 per cent from the previous year, compared with a long-term average growth of nine per cent per year.

Mr. Loffmark said the increase indicates expansion of world markets for the products of Western Canada.

Greatest gains were shown in exports to China—up 30.1 per cent from 1963.

Imports meanwhile rose 23 per cent, to $663,000,000.

Underground Test Fired In Nevada

WASHINGTON (AP)—An underground nuclear test blast was set off Friday at the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site. The blast was the 15th weapons-related test to be announced this year.

CRASH LANDING—PASSENGERS FLEE—PLANE BURNS

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—An Allegheny Airlines pilot threaded his burning two-engine plane through a grove of pine trees and made a wheels-up landing in a narrow clearing Friday, saving the lives of 36 passengers and the four crew members.

Both wings were sheared off as the plane screeched to a halt in the wooded area. The passengers scrambled out through windows and emergency doors. Fire left only a black skeleton of what was a Convair 440. The pilot, Allen Lauber, 36, of Philadelphia, was pinned briefly in his seat and suffered a broken leg, burns and bruises.

Lauber, a 15-year veteran of commercial plane flying, had returned to work Thursday after a week's absence following the death of his father.

Mrs. George H. Parke Jr., who lives nearby, said the plane, smoke pouring from one engine, barely missed a barn, struck a utility pole near a rural church and ripped through the wooded area before coming to rest in the grove just beyond the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Government Urged To Announce Interim Settlement Figures

The postal employees had asked for a general annual salary increase of 10.66 per cent, announced by the government last week. The increase would range from $300 to $200, retroactive to Oct. 1, 1964, making the top salary for letter carriers $5,000 a year and for sorters $5,000.

Meanwhile, Bill Kay, secretary treasurer of the striking Vancouver branch of the Postal Employees Association, proposed that the strikes could be ended if the government announced an interim settlement figure.

"Then the government doesn't commit itself — and neither do we," he said in an interview.

"Then we can go to work and we've got lots of time then to come to a conclusion as to whether this figure is right or not."

Mr. Kay said the strikers, in Vancouver at least, could not heed Judge Anderson's plea to return to work. "We can't go to work without a settlement or proposal to put to the members to accept or reject."

The members have instructed us we stay out until we get a reasonable wage increase. We are prepared to be flexible to some degree but we don't have too much room to be flexible with regards to the $600."

Earlier Friday an injunction was granted by the British Columbia Supreme Court prohibiting picketing of Vancouver post offices. It was to expire at 10 a.m. Monday. However, about 15 members of other trade unions marched in place of the strikers. They called themselves "citizen" pickets.

Mr. Justice J. F. Atkins, who issued the injunction, said a prima facie case had been presented that the strike was illegal on the basis of common law and that the public could be harmed if picketing continued.

Second World War Torpedo Causes Deaths Of Eight Men

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—A Second World War torpedo, accidentally dredged from the ocean bottom by a fishing net, demolished the trawler Snoopy 45 miles off North Carolina's outer banks Friday night.

Eight crew members died. Fishing vessels picked up four survivors, who were being brought to Norfolk, Va. All are in critical condition.

The other crew members were missing and presumed dead.

The Snoopy was trolling for deep sea scallops with a fleet of trawlers off Currituck Sound, N.C., where Nazi U-boats torpedoed hundreds of U.S. transports during the early years of the Second World War.

On rare occasions rusty mines have been spotted, still floating, two decades after they were planted.

Capt. Edward Berry of Fall River, Mass., skipper of the trawler Geraldine, told by radio-telephone what happened.

"It was about 9:15 p.m.," he said. "The Snoopy pulled alongside and her captain (Edward Doody of Portland, Me.) called

Nurse Arrested In Priest's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A nurse who police said was fired from her last job because of "emotional instability" is being held in the shooting death of a young priest.

If investigators have determined the motive, they haven't announced it. However, Chief of Detectives Thad Brown said Mrs. Dorothy M. Breaux may have been frustrated in efforts to see the archbishop, James Francis Cardinal McIntyre.

Pilot's Skill Saves 40

All the passengers were taken to area hospitals. Officials said most were not hurt seriously. Many continued their trip after a checkup at the hospital.

The plane, Flight 804, originated in Pittsburgh and stopped in Dubois and Philadelphia before landing at Williamsport en route to Newark, N.J. It crashed a few minutes after leaving Williamsport.

Six years ago, an Allegheny plane, smacked 1,400 feet up Bald Eagle Mountain near here during a snowstorm, killing 23 persons. One passenger survived.

Ghanaian Mission To Hanoi Touches Down In Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (Reuters)—A Ghanaian mission arrived here today on its way to Hanoi with a letter from President Kwame Nkrumah to President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam.

The four-man mission, led by Kweku Amah, Ghana's high commissioner in London, planned to fly to Shanghai later today and then to Hanoi.

Ben-Gurion Thrown Out Of Party He Once Ruled

David Ben-Gurion, former Israeli premier, and one-time ruler for 35 years of the Labor Party (Mapai), has been formally expelled by the party's executive at a meeting in Tel Aviv.

Decision to expel him followed the establishment of the Israeli Labor List party, a faction headed by Ben-Gurion, which plans to compete against the Mapai in the November elections.

BEN-GURION ... the mighty fall

Premier Ben-Gurion said in Vancouver the federal government used the Dominion provincial conference as a platform to announce a program for the next federal election.

The government was trying to force an election manifesto at the conference. They were elec-

Powerfully-Backed Campaign "To Deadlock U.K. Tory Race"

LONDON (Reuters)—The Daily Express says a "powerfully backed" campaign is under way to cause a deadlock between the two main candidates for Conservative party leader.

The campaign is being led by Douglas-Home.

The Express says right-wing Conservative Enoch Powell and former defence minister Peter Thorneycroft might run against Heath and Mandelson on the first ballot.

Heath and Thorneycroft from Mandelson, the paper speculates.

The leading candidates are Edward Heath, 62, and Reginald Maudling, 61, both cabinet ministers in the Conservative government which was voted out of office last October.

The Express, an independent right-wing newspaper, says a deadlock is sought in order to open the way for a compromise candidate acceptable to all parts of the party.

The Times says Quintin Hogg, former education and science minister, has been approached and might also run if sufficient backing appears. He renounced his title of Lord Hailsham in 1963 in order to run for the party leadership then.

Montreal's Airport Busiest And Edges Ahead Of Toronto

OTTAWA (CP)—Montreal International last year was Canada's busiest airport as it edged ahead of its Toronto counterpart for the first time in five years, the federal transport department said Thursday.

The department said 55,186 takeoffs and landings—both domestic and international—were clocked in 1964 at Montreal compared with 50,012 in 1963.

The Toronto airport placed second with 49,703 movements compared to 46,012 in 1963.

The totals don't include strictly local flights remaining under lower control.

Other busy airports were Vancouver with 37,763 movements last year and 37,881 in 1963; Winnipeg with 28,724 and 24,763; and Calgary, which replaced Ottawa in fifth place, with 20,012 and 17,674.

Total movements including local traffic at the department's 33 tower-controlled airports declined by 10,881 to 2,288,504 takeoffs and landings in 1964.

President Of Ford Escapes Some Of Senate's Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the Ford Motor Co. escaped the rough reception given his two major competitors but did not remain free of all criticism when he appeared this week before a senate subcommittee on traffic safety.

Arjay Miller said Wednesday that 1965 Ford cars coming out this fall will have 14 of 17 safety devices the U.S. government demands on vehicles it buys.

He told the committee, set up to consider the case for federal regulation of traffic safety, that Ford expects to increase spending on safety this year to $138,000,000.

He said Ford would support a federal research program, which should cover the need for better roads, better drivers and better law enforcement as well as safer cars.

The criticism came from committee chairman Abraham Ribicoff (Dem., Conn.) and Robert Kennedy (Dem., N.Y.), the harshest critics of General Motors and Chrysler when they appeared before the committee last week.

CRITICIZES RACIS Ribicoff said Ford's participation in auto racing encourages young people to drive faster.

Emergency Measures All Set For Drought In Northeast U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson ordered federal agencies this week to prepare for emergency measures if the drought in the northeastern United States grows worse.

A federal water resources council report, prepared on an emergency basis at Johnson's request, stressed the belief that, on a short-term basis, the best means of meeting the water crisis lies in drastically reduced consumption.

The report said there are extreme drought conditions in the northern half of New Jersey, northeast quarter of Pennsylvania, southeast half of New York, the western half of Massachusetts, all of Vermont and New Hampshire and parts of southwestern Maine.

Johnson sent out these instructions: "He asked the office of emergency planning and its director Buford Ellington 'to stay on top of the situation although the drought has not yet reached the point where it can be described as emergency in character.'"

He asked the water resources council to supervise and co-ordinate the efforts of all federal agencies in providing states with technical and scientific aid.

He told Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall to have his experts seek additional underground water sources as they make them available quickly should the situation worsen.

He asked the council to arrange to have emergency equipment ready if necessary to provide a mobile intake for the Philadelphia water system if that is needed to keep out salt water. The U.S. Geological Survey is monitoring the front of salt water intrusion brought on by low flow in the Delaware River. The salt water is now seven miles from the Philadelphia intake.

James O'Farrell, 4, of Genesee, near Trail, is in critical condition in hospital after he darted in front of a car near the Genesee Post Office.

Lt. Gen. Tage Anderson, 66, former chief of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's northern region, died in hospital Friday after a long illness in Copenhagen.

Anderson was born in 1898 in the town of Leno, N.Y. He became the first officer to lead the joint Danish-West German command for the defense of Denmark and north Germany.

Baby Girl Born At 39,000 Feet

NEW YORK (AP)—When the first cries of life were heard at 39,000 feet, 35 passengers applauded and a courageous stewardess signed with relief. The captain ordered champagne for everyone—except the new arrival.

A baby girl was born Friday to Mrs. Albert A. Herzog, 22, of Warehouse Point, Conn., in a Lufthansa jet flying over the Atlantic Ocean near Newfoundland. She was returning from a visit to her parents at Pforzheim, Germany.

The baby was delivered by stewardess Rita Bernbach of Hamburg, West Germany. She followed radioed instructions from Dr. Peter Bulle of Washington, aboard a Lufthansa jet flying nearby.

Meanwhile, the father, 39, was driving to Kennedy Airport here to pick up his wife and her two-year-old daughter, Andrea, by a previous marriage. The baby was expected next week.

Only Light Scattered Action Reported On Viet Nam Ground

SAIGON (CP)—Only light scattered action in the ground war in South Viet Nam was reported today. However heavy air strikes continued against Viet Cong concentrations.

Meanwhile South Viet Nam's effort to beef up its forces continued in the wake of a tragedy in which 39 youth draftees were feared drowned.

The 39, in a group of more than 300 recruits on a naval training camp, were reported to have been among 50 who about three miles from Saigon jumped into the Saigon River during a demonstration against military service that turned into rioting.

A naval patrol boat rescued 11.

Government sources in Saigon, reporting this today, indicated that the capital's youth had turned from sullen evasion of the draft to open rebellion.

According to other sources, recruitment has become a major problem for both sides in the Viet Nam War. U.S. officials report that heavy losses by the Communist Viet Cong are forcing them to use terror in finding additional troops.

BODDING AN ART In Saigon, where draft-dodging has been developed into an art, police have been staging frequent round-ups and sending the captives off immediately to military training centres in the provinces.

Young South Vietnamese have resorted to such measures as self-mutilation or female impersonation.

Quebec Independence Group Fails To Tie In With Strike

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP)—A wildcat strike by some 300 members of the United Steelworkers of America (U.S.W.A.) ended Friday with an unsuccessful attempt by the separatist Rassemblement pour l'indépendance Nationale to link the workers' grievances with Quebec independence.

The union said the eight-day strike was a protest against the behavior of an English-speaking foreman toward French-speaking workers at Canadian Electrolytic Zinc, a subsidiary of Noranda Mines of Toronto.

Rin President Pierre Bourgault, who came to Valleyfield July 15 when the walkout began, had to speak of other things at a night meeting in the city's main park.

He accepted a police request that he not mention the zinc firm or the strike in his remarks to a crowd of 300, swelled by separatists who came by car from Montreal, 30 miles away.

Another speaker who mounted the park bandstand after him did briefly link the strike with politics.

"We came here to support the strikers," Pierre Vallieres, 27, a former trade union employee who writes for the left wing separatist magazine Parti Pris, said before policemen closed in around him.

Legal Battle Arises In Italy Over Fabled Buried Treasure

BELVEGLIO D'ASTI, Italy (AP)—A legal battle has broken out here over a fabled lost treasure dating back to the Renaissance.

Duke Carlo Matteo Farnese is supposed to have buried the treasure during the 16th century on the grounds of Castello Della Mala Morte (Castle of the Evil Death) on a hill in this North Italian village.

Engineer Alessandro Porro claims he has located the treasure some 3 feet below ground by means of an electronic detector he invented. The data supplied by the detector, he said, indicates the treasure includes barrels filled with gold and diamond-studded crowns.

Barberis said this week he hoped to reach his goal in one more month. But he is embroiled in a dispute with Porro over what percentage of the treasure the engineer is entitled to.

Ecuador Replies To City Letter

The Council of the City of Kelowna in Ecuador which has been selected as a "twin" for Kelowna in the International Co-operation Year has expressed utmost goodwill and co-operation for the project.

A letter has been received from the office of the President of the Council stating that a delegate has been named who will act as a coordinator in the program.

Mayor Parkinson wrote a letter Friday on behalf of the City of Kelowna to the Riobamba Council and their official, Dr. Merino Munoz.

It was through the charge d'affaires in the Canadian Embassy in Quito, and steering committee member Simon Foulds in Kelowna that this primary stage of communication was reached.

In letters to Mr. Foulds, the embassy pointed out the possibilities for a rewarding relationship between the two municipalities, both at Council and citizen level.

He said that the embassy staff has been making an attempt to bring elementary education to the Indian children living in a remote area of the province of Riobamba. This school has low funds and one teacher and is known as Canada School.

At a meeting held Friday by the Kelowna steering committee a letter of resignation was read from William Hawker, Mr. Hawker, who until recently was chairman of the committee, has found that his election as chairman of the Kelowna Teachers' Federation will not leave him sufficient time to hold office in the twin city committee.

Alex Haug was elected chairman in place of Mr. Hawker, at Friday's meeting.

In the discussion which followed, Simon Foulds was thanked for his efforts in re-establishing contact with Riobamba.

Mr. Haug made an appeal to citizens of Kelowna who have relatives or friends in Ecuador to contact him.

SWITCHBOARDS BUZZ BETWEEN WESTBANK AND KELOWNA

A switchboard is the life line of the community socially and economically. A total of 48,426 calls were made in 1964 from Kelowna to Westbank and 46,172 from Westbank to Kelowna. "It is difficult to guess, but I would say these calls will multiply three or four times, should Westbank vote to join the Kelowna telephone exchange for toll free service," Stuart Murdoch, superintendent said today. Batches should be mailed today to ensure their arriving at the telephone office by the deadline Monday, E. F. M.

Hill, member of the Westbank chamber of commerce said. A total of 437 ballots were distributed to Westbank subscribers asking if they wish to join the Kelowna exchange. To date 255 have been returned, Mr. Hill said. A majority vote of 55 per cent is needed for the telephone company to proceed. In the photo above Mrs. Shirley Setten completes a call from Westbank on the busiest day in the telephone company's history. Service was accelerated due to the postal strike in many parts of Canada and the switchboard was swamped with calls. (Courier photo)

Fish Biologist Has Key To Make Anglers' Dream

A fisherman's best friend is somebody most people have never heard of — the fish biologist.

George Bringer of Kelowna holds that position in this region with the department of recreation and conservation. He sees that sport fishing is protected and improved for anglers using our many lakes. In the course of carrying out his duties he sees lakes are stocked with rainbow trout. He has small lakes treated chemically to kill off coarse types of fish to make way for the trout planting. He also does extensive research into the behavior patterns of fish and their breeding problems.

As a biologist he is constantly trying to improve the strain of rainbow trout introduced into our lakes.

HOME FISH BETTER
In the process of improving the strain he discovered there is nothing better than native types. "They have it all over U.S. imports," he said.

"Five years ago when we began importing from U.S. hatcheries," he said. "We found the fish were growing faster than our strain, but they died earlier and were bottom feeders, making them hard to catch. It took us five years to follow this experiment through and make our decision to return to native trout."

"Eggs are collected at Beaver and Penak Lakes in May and June and transported to Sumerland Fish hatcheries where yearlings are held until the next May.

"Lakes are stocked with two years of fish, yearlings (four to five inches) and fingerlings (two inches). Fingerlings are ready to leave the hatchery in September.

"Yearlings are placed in the larger lakes with easy access. Other lakes receive the fingerlings. Neither Okanagan or Shuswap Lakes are stocked as they are too large for the supplies available.

"In May this year 51,000 yearlings were planted in five district lakes, 383,000 fingerlings will go into 15 lakes in September.

"Fish are planted either by air or transported from the hatchery site by tank. A hose is attached to the tank and they run out the hose into the lake."

"Lakes planted with yearlings include Bear Lake, 18,000; Brownie, 10,000; Headwater (One) 15,000; Two 3,000 and three 5,000.

"Beaver Lake will receive 80,000 fingerlings as will the Deechain and Hatherme. Oyama Lake will get 5,000. Lots of 10,000 will go to Brenda, Brunette and Fly Fish Lake 1. Rose Valley Dam is slated to have 15,000, Wilma and Fly Fish No. 2 will get 8,000 each.

"Silver, Lost and Loon lakes will get 6,000 fingerlings each and Hidden Lake 4,000.

"We would like to do more lakes but there is a shortage of eggs this year due to flooding in Penak Lake. We lost a lot of eggs at this time.

"One of the biggest crimes in our work is fishermen who release live bait into lakes. This is illegal and can upset years of work on our part to rid lakes of coarse fish.

"Coarse fish multiply rapidly and a lake can only handle so much poundage of fish. Coarse fish include suckers, carp, squawfish and chub.

"We treat a lake chemically to kill off coarse fish and then restock it with rainbow trout — the most desirable type.

"This may take one to four years and can be upset if someone releases live bait in the lake starting a coarse type breeding again."

WATERS CLOSED
"Such a chemically treated lake can be found at Chase. Niskonilth Lake was treated in 1958 and restocked in 1962. It has been closed for experimental purposes since that time.

"The government purposes to open it for a short period from Aug. 1 to Sept. 6 to allow some of the fish to be taken. The fish were originally intended for the Kootenay Lakes, but the Columbia development has interfered with plans.

"We will not stock the Kootenay until we have evaluated the effect of the dam on the fish," Mr. Bringer said.

Besides stocking yearlings and fingerling rainbow trout, he had 5,000 eastern brook trout planted in Mill Creek and 12,000 put in the Glenmore reservoir.

NEW HATCHERY
Mr. Bringer said of the amount of fish released in a season some 25 percent are caught each year. Another 75 per cent die of natural causes.

"To date we have not enough hatcheries to fill our requirements, but a new hatchery is being built in the Kootenay, so next year we shall have more for planting."

Trout live three to four years. Yearlings released in May are eight to 10 inches by September.

A company official said today. "No comment but there is no strike here."

A union spokesman, James Mathers of Vernon, said the strike included Kelowna, Golden, and Revelstoke, and centred around union affiliation.

He said there were full time pickets in Golden and Revelstoke, and if the Kelowna office tries to move any equipment full time pickets will move in.

Mr. Mathers said 41 mechanics, operators, and helpers took a strike vote Tuesday. Of these, he added, 10-12 came from Kelowna.

Some of the workers were recently employed on the highway work on the outskirts of Kelowna, he said, and a road at Golden by the ski lift.

Anjous Develop Moderate Crops

Kelowna has a moderate crop of Anjou pears, which are developing normally, horticultural news letter said today.

Harvest of the token apricot crop is tapering off with most of the fruit going to district markets and roadside stands.

Yellow transparent harvest is underway. Duchesne are about 10 days from harvest in the North Okanagan.

"Thinning continues in all districts with the end in sight in the South Okanagan."

Red mites, rust mites and pear psylla are causing some concern in all districts. Cucumbers, tomatoes, cabbage, peppers, potatoes, beans and corn are being harvested.

POLICE BATTLE NOISY MUFFLERS

RCMP were checking cars in the downtown area Friday night for noisy mufflers, excessive speed and screaming tires.

Three complaints were received by police during the evening from Kelowna residents.

"Some charges were preferred and these people will be appearing before the court next week," Staff Sgt. T. J. L. Kelly, head of the Kelowna detachment, said today.

Complaints came from residents on Manhattan Drive, Bay Ave., and Lawrence Ave. Dennis William Morgenstern, Kamloops, was charged with making an illegal left turn following a two-car collision in the 1800 block Glenmore St., at 9:10 p.m. Friday.

Second driver was Matthew Sperle, 1646 Highland Drive. Damage is estimated at $150. No injuries were reported.

Two Seconds Tip Scales For Man

Two seconds made all the difference in a case being dismissed in magistrate's court Friday.

Magistrate D. M. White dismissed the charge against John Anderson, Salmon Arm, of going through a red light.

Evidence showed the amber light at Pandosy St., and Harvey Ave., was on for three seconds. The normal period is at least five seconds. Mr. Anderson had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

In dismissing the case, Magistrate White asked the crown to instruct the jury about the proper timing of the amber light at this intersection.

Massed Bands Play In Park

The Kelowna and Penticton city bands will present a program in city park Sunday at 2:30 p.m., J. G. McKinley, director, said today.

"A massed band of 70 musicians will take part," Mr. McKinley said. "The program will include marches, overtures and Latin American music."

Conductors will be Mr. McKinley of Kelowna and John Sterken, Penticton.

"The Penticton band has made great strides in the past two years under their new conductor," Mr. McKinley said.

Mr. Sterken is a retired professional musician brought in by the city of Penticton to build up their band.

Lyle Bassett, president of the Kelowna city band, said a similar joint band presentation in Penticton July 11, was attended by several hundred people.

"It is nice to see a return to the old fashioned concert in the park," said Wally Drinkwater, manager of the Kelowna city band.

Master of ceremonies will be Mel Barwick, treasurer for the Kelowna band association and vice-principal of the Kelowna secondary school.

Travelling Artists Complete Murals Wall For Supermarket

Have brush, will travel. That is the story of Paul McCammon and Frank Mason, two artists from Los Angeles, California, who were in Kelowna completing a mural at the new Gordon's Super Valu store on Bernard avenue.

The artists are employed by a California company doing commercial paintings of all types, stores and texture in all parts of the continent.

The men have completed a masterpiece of color, and legend, in their 100 foot long mural of Okanagan, and the Okanagan Valley, which they did in abstract.

Mr. McCammon said: "We have done the mural in a variety of colors, of which we used about eight gallons of paint. We included the greens of the mountains, the blues of the lake, and the many pinks involved in one of your lovely sunsets."

The mural will be affixed on the wall at the store.

The company was actually created in Los Angeles and transported here, said Mr. McCammon.

MONEY LOSING FAVOR
LONDON, Ont. (CPI)—Money is losing favor in general, said L. T. Smith, guest speaker at a rumismatic convention here, although small change (50 cents or less) is still popular. The rarer small coins now are the most valuable, he said. The 1921 Canadian 50 cent piece is worth up to $1,000.

Norman Mullins Leaves City To Assume Duties In Ottawa

Norman Mullins, Kelowna lawyer, left with his family today to take up his new position with the department of justice in Ottawa.

"I am already looking forward to returning in June 1966 when the B.C. Law Society hold their 45th convention in Kelowna," he said. "I hope to take my holidays then and renew friendships."

"My family and I are looking forward with interest to living in Ottawa but we have many regrets at leaving our friends here. We will miss them and the incomparable Okanagan."

Weekend Looms Sunny And Warm

The extensive high pressure area over B.C. will maintain warm sunny weather in most parts of the province today and Sunday.

Christ One, Only Saviour Despite Ecumenical Views

With modern ecumenical thinking there is a tendency to place other religions alongside of Christianity as comparable in value. We are told by some that we should see the good in other religions and not be so biased as to think that Christianity is the only religion which will show a person to eternal glory and forgiveness of sin.

We are willing to admit that there is some good teaching in other religions. It would be dreadful if they were all completely bad. And certainly not all who are ecumenical in their thinking teach as I have indicated some teach, but it does seem that there are some. There is a breaking down of the positive and definite message of Christ.

As a Christian I believe the Bible. I believe the words spoken by our Saviour concerning himself, His Father and Heaven. I also believe what He had to say about eternal condemnation and judgment. I have no right to call myself a Christian if I fail to believe all Christ said which includes that He is the only Saviour.

To weakly embrace the Bible as anything else than God's own word and to accept Jesus Christ as any less than God is to deny the message of Christ to the world. It is for a lost world that the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God gave His life. God has faithfully recorded these facts in His word.

Moreover, we cannot profess to believe the words of Christ and not hold to the fact that in Him alone is salvation. He said, "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the Father but by me." John 14:6. He also said, "I am the Door, by Me if any man enter in he shall be saved." John 10:9. Peter's early address to Israel include the following words, "And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved," Acts 2:21, and "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved," Acts 4:12.

There are but a few references in the word of God of the words of Jesus Himself and of one of His apostles. We could multiply these references many times. We must believe these things if we wish to claim the name of Christian.

The evangelical Christian today is accused of not being loving because he refuses to forget his convictions and embrace everything and everybody as part of God's great family. He believes that there is judgment upon sin and eternal condemnation for those who will persist in their own ways, and he is scorned for it. To take judgment out of Christianity is to lose the value of salvation.

There is no need for salvation if there is no condemnation for sin. Again he may be accused of being narrow, but we are made aware by Jesus Himself that "wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction; and many there be which go in thereat; because straight is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." Matthew 7:13, 14.

No, we cannot profess to be believers in Jesus Christ and to believe the Bible and allow Christ to be brought down from His exalted position of the One and only Saviour for mankind. I have written of judgment, but I have written of love. God judges because He loves. "But God commendeth His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Romans 5:8. God's word will stand.—Rev. D. W. Hoegman, Pastor, The Faith Gospel Church.

Sand Dune Dwellers

National Geographic Society

To the beach-goer, hot sand dunes seem lifeless. To the biologist, however, they are a fascinating world teeming with life.

Insects and myriad other creatures inhabit dunes despite surface heat that soars to 135 degrees, the National Geographic Society says. Winged animals can escape their ovenlike world by taking short, cooling flights. Others are specially adapted to survive.

In the June issue of National Geographic, Delaware marine biologist William H. Amos tells about his summer-long study of the Cape Henlopen Dunes at the mouth of Delaware Bay.

"The more I studied the dunes, the more insects and other creatures I found, and the more I noticed their protective heat shields," Mr. Amos writes.

"Some creatures were so swathed in light-colored 'fur' that they looked like miniature Eskimos in hooded parkas. Flies, wasps, beetles, and spiders all wore furry coverings, although often it took a powerful magnifying glass to detect them. Some of the digger wasps had silvery hair between their eyes, in the region of their tiny brains. It is conceivable that these may serve as efficiency heat reflectors."

During the intense heat of the day, the beetles, wasps, and spiders keep to small holes. Rabbits hide their young under pieces of rotting timber. Field mice huddle beneath low-lying shrubs. Cold-blooded animals such as lizards, toads, and snakes also seek out the shade.

At night the dunes come alive with an intensity that surprised Mr. Amos. Tiny pinpoints of light shimmering ice-blue clusters turned out to be the watchful eyes of sand-colored spiders.

"Almost all the dune inhabitants are predators," he reports.

The fiercest are the larval ant lions, or doodlebugs, as they are known to children. These little predators ambush their prey from conical pits they dig in the sand. An insect trespasser that tumbles into the trap is immediately dragged beneath the sand to be pierced by the doodlebug's sickle-shaped jaws, then consumed.

The microscope is necessary to reveal the tiniest animals of the dunes. Micro-organisms of infinite variety swim about in dune ponds. Another whole world of microscopic creatures swims deep within the dunes among grains of sand saturated with moisture.

Mr. Amos wondered how this microscopic world sustained itself so deep beneath the hot hills of sand. He took dry surface sand and cultured it in the laboratory under sterile conditions.

"What I had collected was not just sand," he said, "for bursting from their protective spores were countless bacterial and one-celled animals identical with those I had found far beneath the surface. Apparently, with every rainfall, vast numbers of wind-borne spores and cysts were percolating downward through the sand into the sub-surface world."

Quebec Newspapers View Events As They See Them

This is a selection of editorials on current topics, translated from the French-language press of Canada.

Trouble in the North —Washington has a funny conception of Canadian sovereignty. Our country, for our neighbors to the south, is at most a satellite.

This is the doctrine that emerges from a recent public report to the effect that Ottawa should abstain from making public its differences with Washington.

This simply means Canada must renounce her independence and submit to the dictates of the White House. Mr. Pearson and his government cannot accept such an attitude without coming promptly under the federal rule and mercy of the United States. From there to slavery is a short step.

We know only too well how badly Washington looks on Canada's refusal to conform with U.S. views in international matters like the Viet Nam conflict. The cold water President Johnson recently threw on Prime Minister Pearson and External Affairs Minister Martin verged on rudeness, even scorn. The immense vanity of President Johnson and American immaturity in these matters are known.

One need only quote the report of Ambassadors Arnold

Heeneey of Canada and Livingston Merchant of the United States to realize what attitude prevails in Washington.

It is important that Canadian authorities have a special regard for the situation of the American government in this world context: it is the heavy responsibilities of the United States as leader of the free world and avoid public disagreement as much as possible, particularly on critical questions.

For the United States it amounts to telling Canada to button its lip. . . . Eventually even the newspapers and media of information of the country would have nothing to say in criticism of what the Americans decide. . . . (July 16)

Ottawa Le Droit—Constitutionally Ottawa controls the Eskimos. Opposition Leader Diefenbaker recalled as Quebec and Ottawa announced settlement of their dispute over the Quebec north and its Eskimos. He is right.

He is right because the constitution says so, but we know very well that the constitution has to be made over from top to bottom. At the time of Confederation, when the provinces left Ottawa the authority over Eskimos, they did so because they had no choice.

Since then things have changed. New law, sharing deals and new means of transport have made the north accessible to all, and it is only logical that the provinces assume their whole responsibility throughout their territory in civil rights and education. When following the example of Arthur Laing, the northern affairs minister, whose narrow-mindedness is obvious, the leader of the opposition plays the pure demagogue and says no decision should be taken without the interested parties being consulted, we can only smile.

It is from fear of seeing them pass over to the French speaking group more than from respect for their human pride that he speaks that way. It would be interesting to see Messrs. Laing and Diefenbaker prove to us that when the central government gave attention to the Eskimos—well after French-speaking missionaries had already done so—it asked them whether they preferred to study English or French. In fact, it imposed English on them from the start.

The constitution, we must repeat, has to be rewritten. As for people's right to self-determination, it is hardly likely that the government of Quebec, which has always treated the English-speaking minority with such generosity, will act meanly toward the Eskimo minority.

If the Eskimos prefer English, French will not be forced upon them, but there is no reason Quebec should not offer them the choice of the two official languages, pointing out to them that they live in a French province. That is something Ottawa never did. —Marcel Gingras, (July 16)

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH X-Ray Test Costly But Results Happy

By Dr. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

Are three sets of X-rays necessary to determine whether a lung condition exists? I had a heart problem in 1959 and my doctor ordered annual X-rays of the area.

The most recent annual ones indicated a shadow along the left lower rib area. A new set of X-rays was taken as a result. Then the doctor ordered another set. He finally said no malignancy existed, but this has been expensive.—E.W.B.

Yes, it can take three sets, and sometimes more. X-rays are primarily intended to show any change in shape or size of the heart or the great blood vessels. But that doesn't prevent the doctor from looking for anything else that may be suspicious. In your case he discovered this unexplained shadow in the lung area, and he rightly determined to find out whether it indicated trouble.

In the case of shadows in the lung area, serial X-rays—a group taken in succession—are generally essential. A shadow can exist from any of a number of reasons, some of them of minor significance. If the shadow is expanding, or changing, then it becomes urgently important to know in what way it is changing and how fast.

Serial X-rays are bound to add up in cost, but when the purpose is to determine whether you have lung cancer or some other serious disease, don't you think the important thing is to find out?

You received good news. I'm glad. Dear Dr. Molner: I am told that I am one of the rare women who can tell when I am becoming pregnant. Around the middle of my cycle I have a bad pain in my side. Could it be that the ovum is falling then?—MRS. D. This is called "mittelschmerz," or middle pain, and in some women accompanies the separation of the ovum from the ovary. This is the time at which pregnancy is possible. It is probable that some release of fluid is the actual cause of the pain.

Dear Dr. Molner: We learned two months ago that our five-year-old son has Perthes Disease. A week later he was in a brace. Our doctor said he might be in it for two to four years, and told us the bone at the hip was dead from not getting blood. Please answer the following:

1.—Could this be caused from an accident?

2.—Is there a chance of malignancy?

3.—Will the leg that is in the brace continue to grow?

4.—Is there any exercise we can use to help the blood flow back quicker?—MRS. W. This condition, or to give it its full name, Legg-Calve-Perthes Disease, happens from time to time, with youngsters, and without fail it frightens parents. It would frighten me, too, except that I know that with proper care, the child usually recovers. Your answers are:

1.—Injury of some sort is a common cause, but not necessarily a violent accident.

2.—It is not a malignant condition.

3.—The necrotic (destroyed) bone will be replaced by new bone, as the leg should grow to normal size.

4.—No, exercise won't help. The healing process is slow and there is no way to hurry it. Naturally the brace is a nuisance, often an uncomfortable one, but taking the load off the affected bone is a vital part of the treatment. The most important part, in fact,

LOOKING BACK WITH OLD STAGER

Prohibition Issue Hot One In 1915

By ART GRAY

The issues of the newspapers of 1915 carried items from time to time, that were portraits of the coming of what we now refer to as "the prohibition era."

It began in the first instance as a reaction from wide open days of saloons on every corner, and at every stopping place on the trails and highways, and started as a "local option" plan where small districts voted their particular area "dry," or stayed "wet."

In 1915 it was becoming a provincial matter, and several provinces had adopted laws making the entire province dry, the latest being Alberta where, according to the Courier of July 22, 1915, there was a 22,000 majority for the new liquor act.

SURPRISE, DUMMAY

To the surprise and dismay of the "wets," all the cities except Lethbridge had given the "dry" a majority, even Edmonton with 12,000 votes, giving prohibition a 9,300 majority. Lethbridge gave the anti-prohibition vote a slim 275 lead there.

Saskatchewan had already voted for prohibition, and it was not surprising that in B.C. the movement got a strong boost. The July 29 Courier tells of a meeting of business men of the city, called by the somewhat inappropriate name of D. F. Glass, from Vancouver, who had been sent out by a group of business men interested in securing the prohibition of alcoholic liquors in B.C. J. Hall was chairman, and W. E. Adams as secretary, and a committee was set up comprising Adams, Ball, J. A. Bigger, J. Leathley, H. Sverdrup, Rev. Alex Dunn and Rev. J. C. Switzer, with Mr. Ball as convener. A resolution requesting a plebiscite was passed unanimously, and Mayor J. W. Jones and L. V. Rogers were elected to attend a convention of business men in Vancouver as delegates.

The convention, to be held August 24 and 25, would make plans for a province-wide campaign. The proposal was to impose prohibition for the period of the war, with another plebiscite to be held afterwards to decide if prohibition should be permanent.

As we know, in retrospect, prohibition carried here, and in the United States, and the "prohibition era" became an established fact. Today we seem to have swung back almost to the other extreme again. Will the pendulum swing again, and some other form of prohibition again hold sway? Who knows!

In these days of fast speeding automobiles the drunken driver is far more of a menace than when he drove a horse and buggy—at least the horse had some sense! If some form of prohibition is enacted in the future, it will come because of the needs of an ever speedier machine age, where clear heads and steady hands are a prerequisite to safety of life and limb.

LAST LIBERAL MP

A July 1915 issue of the Kelowna Courier carried the obituary of a man who was prominent in the Okanagan and boundary country in the latter part of the final decade of the previous century, and the first decade of this.

His name was Duncan Ross, and he made his home in Greenwood where he served on the council of that bustling mining city of that day, and was owner of the "Boundary Creek Press".

His claim to fame is based mainly on the fact that he was the member of parliament for the vast riding of Yale-Cariboo from 1904 to 1908, which included the boundary country, the Okanagan and the Cariboo. A native of Bruce county, Ont., his parents were exiles from the Highlands of Scotland. He came to B.C. at the age of 18, taught school for a time, then took up journalism with the Victoria Times. In 1904 when he ran as a Liberal candidate in the federal election, he was only 34. The Courier editor, who had known him well, described him as a "clear-headed thinker, and a man of good name."

His opponent was Martin Burrell, a fruit grower from Grand Forks. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was then the Prime Minister of Canada, and his government was re-elected, and Ross carried Yale-Cariboo by a fair margin.

In the next election, however, in spite of the fact that it was a deferred poll (due to the large scattered area, and the time required to distribute ballots) and the national vote was already known, the Liberals being returned to office, Martin Burrell was the choice, and Duncan Ross lost out.

He turned to railway construction, in which he achieved success, and moved back to Victoria. His untimely death from a stroke at the age of 40 left his widow with a family of four daughters, the eldest being 12 years of age.

One of those daughters is a resident of Okanagan Mission, Mrs. Victor Dellart. Duncan Ross has the distinction of having been the last Liberal member elected federally in this part of the once wide-spread Yale-Cariboo riding.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTRANCE

The big hurdle for pupils desiring a higher education (for them) 50 years ago was the high school entrance exam. The list of successful candidates was eagerly awaited, and the Courier always published the list in full.

Here are the happy ones that summer: Russell Leckie 645, Frances Hererson 643, Robert Dykes 629, Louise Campbell 617, Dorothy Coles 610, George Pettigrew 598, Annie McMillan 594, James Calder 594, Catherine Akroyd 583, Opal Thompson 582, Henry Crowley 583, Guy Dellart 578, Robert Thayer 578, W. Raymond 573, Terence Crowley 570, Ian Weddell 556, Judith Copeland 553, John Butler 550, Jack Thayer 549. (There's those last two just made it!)

Results from the rural schools, from the few names listed, indicate the tendency to drop out, at this stage, amongst rural pupils. Their help was needed on the farm, and transportation to town was a problem. Many boys went through the last year of public school, but never bothered to write the exam. Here is the list:

Black Mountain (Rutland): Lillian Sproul 603, Minnie Campbell 577, Earle McDonald 526, Ellison, Stanley Silke 758 (the highest marks in Kelowna and district), Elizabeth Conroy 644, Lou Bonnett 600, Jean Clague 624, Clarence 624, Okanagan (Hemlockville): Jean Brown 617, Charles Wiles 554, Okanagan Centre: Sarah Gray 737 (second highest in area), Wood Lake: Margaret Metcalfe 560.

Navy Divers Now Can Squirt Sharks

LONDON (AP) — British scientists have come up with a handy aerosol shark repellent which navy divers can squirt at inquisitive sharks.

"It's just like the household uses in the kitchen or bathroom, and works the same way," said Edward Lee, an Admiralty expert on sharks. "If the shark comes along you give it a squirt rather like you give a fly or moth. The aerosol shoots out a chemical irritant for several feet which affects the shark's eyes or gills."

"Our men have carried out tests in overseas waters and the thing works. Of course if the shark smells blood and goes into a frenzy there's nothing yet-invented that will stop it attacking. Frenzied sharks even eat each other."

Telegram From Queen Marks 60th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Salloom, 1205 Pandey street, celebrated their Diamond Wedding Anniversary on Thursday, July 22, when they were honored by their family at a reception at the Capri Motor Hotel.

Mr. Salloom, who is 85 years old, emigrated to the United States and settled in New York where he carried on the business of manufacturer's agent for a period of seven years before returning to his birth place of Lebanon to marry his wife Sarah. Later the couple emigrated to Saskatchewan where they homesteaded in the Swift Current and Hazenmore districts until 1944 when they returned to the sunny Okanagan which reminded them of their home in Lebanon.

Mrs. Salloom received the guests wearing a charming dress of plume colored lace with a matching lace jacket and an orchid corsage, and she and her husband are shown in the picture as they are about to cut the beautiful 60th anniversary wedding cake made by their daughter, Mrs. Louis Salloom, for the occasion. They also received many beautiful gifts from their family and friends including a gorgeous bouquet of gladioli and roses from the staff of the Okanagan Realty Company.

Acting as master of ceremonies at the reception was Al Salloom. David Salloom proposed the toast to the happy couple, and Lawrence Salloom read telegrams of congratulation from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, Buckingham Palace, London; Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, John G. Diefenbaker, leader of the opposition, Premier W. A. C. Bennett, David Fugle, M.P. and Jack McInnes, M.P. from Swift Current, as well as a message from Mayor Parkinson of Kelowna and many other friends.

ANN LANDERS

Teenager Has Right To Have Her Hair Cut

Dear Ann Landers: I was 13 years old in April. My mother and I have been arguing about something for two years. She has agreed to abide by your decision and so have I.

I have never had a haircut in my life. My hair is down to my waist. Ever since I was a little girl people have given me compliments on my beautiful hair. I used to enjoy it a lot but it didn't mean anything to me any more.

I have been trying to get my hair cut since I was 11 but my mother won't hear of it. She says my hair is my best feature and if I cut it off I will look like everybody else. I would be happy to look like everybody else just to get rid of this mop. Long, thick hair is hot in the summer and a lot of work to wash and brush. Also, I would like to wear my hair in a more modern style. Please be on my side.—TOI HEAVY

Dear Top: A 12-year-old should be permitted to get her hair cut if she wants to. Not only will it be easier to care for, but your case it will be a symbol of growing up and growing up is a pretty good idea for all of us.

Dear Ann Landers: For 25 years I have been going to showers for brides and buying them presents. I figured I'd get even when a son got married. Well my son is in the service stationed in Germany. He sent us a letter last week saying he married a very nice girl. (She is an American who works for the government.)

I would like to give my daughter-in-law an absentee kitchen shower so when they come home she will have her kitchen completely equipped. My neighbor who knows a lot about etiquette says it would not be proper. I say, why not? Please advise.—A MOTHER

Dear Mother: After 25 years of shelling out you are no doubt eager to "get even"—and who can blame you? But please wait until the bride comes home. A shower in absentia is an out and out clobber and your friends will resent it.

Dear Ann Landers: A relative of mine makes me so mad I can't sleep. She has a Pekingese dog that gets treated better than most people's children.

The dog is a finicky eater so the woman has hired a chef who comes in and cooks special dishes for the dog. Also, the dog cries if he has to stay alone at night so she hires a sitter to stay with him. The dog sleeps on a velvet pillow in a wicker basket. His toenails are manicured by a professional and he goes to the beauty parlor to get bathed and combed every week. (I go every month.)

The thing that really gets my blood pressure up is those satin bows the puts over the dog's ears—and that gold collar. Isn't it immoral to lavish such luxury on a dog when there are millions of starving people in the world? What do they say?—NAUSEATED

Dear Nauseated: There is no connection between lavishing luxury on dogs and the plight of millions of starving people. One is a sickness, the other is a tragedy.

The woman who babies her dog has a desperate need to express her love for something. This reflects a pathetic lack of fulfillment, which is terribly sad.

Some 24 guests enjoyed playing the amusing games which were followed by the opening of the lovely and useful gifts, and Mrs. Wilson connected a most fascinating hat for the bride-elect to wear from the colorful ribbons on the parcels.

Miss Trego then thanked her friends and delicious refreshments, served by four young friends, Miss Jan Moonen, Miss Fran Simion, Miss Lark Wilson and Miss Judy Meunier, brought the delightful party to a close.

Hawaiian Fashions Highlight Colorful Regatta Luncheon

More and more Kelownians line, wore carelessly draped and their visitors are attending the popular Regatta Fashion Luncheons each week and on Wednesday last some 150 people enjoyed a showing of exotic Hawaiian fashions from the Grass Shack.

Hostesses for this occasion were Mrs. Thomas Walker and Mrs. William Cleaver, and the charming models who strolled between the tables during the excellent emporium luncheon were Lady-of-the-Lake candidates, Barbara Elsdon, Miss Agnes, and Shirley Crowder, Miss Independent Forester, Mrs. Ian Collinson and Mrs. George Athans.

The fashions shown were in a blaze of exotic color, yet perfect for hot Kelowna summer wear. Bikinis in colorful Hawaiian prints were worn with leis, a pink and green latest swim suit was smart for the more conservative bathers, and slims in polished cotton worn with overblouses in large bright prints began the showing. One particularly colorful and beguiling bikini with a matching short dress was worn with an orange bonnet-type beach hat tied under the model's chin.

A white cookie outfit with light white slims and a long skirt, featuring an oriental motif in black, was very smart and was worn with a white cookie hat trimmed with black fringe. Flowered mu-mus and delightful sheaths in oriental or Hawaiian styles came next.

One bright green and yellow sheath featured yellow inverted side pleats with inset pockets, and was fastened in front with oriental 'frogs' and small covered buttons. Long hostess gowns with slim front lines and full pannelled backs were shown for patio wear in bright prints of polished cotton. A bright red and silver after-five dress in afternoon length was accented with a matching scarf, flowing from one side of the front neck.

Authorities Need "Plan of Survey"

All local authorities require a "plan of survey" certified by a provincial surveyor showing street, lane, house and property lines surrounding the property by means of stakes, and sufficiently referenced and dimensioned to ensure re-establishment if lost or disturbed.

With a normal size building lot, the local bylaw ensures that the house is sited correctly on the lot, but with an extra large lot the homeowner must give thought to the siting of the house on the lot as snow shovelling on walks and driveways can be an onerous task.

In National Housing Act financed homes internal lots in any block must contain at least 4,000 square feet for a detached house.

Facelift For Times Tower In Crossroads Of World

NEW YORK (AP) — In the heart of Manhattan's bustling Times Square, the finishing touches are being put to the exterior of the 24-storey Allied Chemical Corp. tower.

Next SENTRY Takes Position

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The second of two SENTRY satellites was manoeuvred into station 60,000 miles above the earth Thursday night.

The move completes a space triple play aimed at developing a foolproof means of detecting secret nuclear explosions out to 300,000 miles in space.

A radio signal ignited a small motor aboard the satellite. A firing jockeyed the 524-pound craft out of an elliptical orbit ranging from 120 to 60,000 miles and shifted it to a more circular course about 60,000 miles up.

A motor aboard a twin satellite was fired Thursday night to place it in a similar orbit on the opposite side of the globe.

A third satellite launched on the same Atlas-Agena rocket from Cape Kennedy Tuesday continued in the wide elliptical path as planned. It is measuring radiation in the Van Allen belt.

INTERPRETING WORLD EVENTS

Medicare a Two Way Pull

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson's initial success in promoting a nation-wide medical care program could hinder as much as it helps any possible plans for an October general election, cabinet sources said today.

Informants within the federal ministry say that, while the Pearson government is elated over developments at this week's federal-provincial conference, it does not regard the meeting as purely a plus factor as far as fall electioneering is concerned.

Mr. Pearson, reported by some informants to be thinking in "fairly definite" terms of an Oct. 18 vote, himself told reporters following Thursday's conference wrap-up that he does not regard medical care in particular, as a "springboard to an election."

Finance Minister Gordon, on the other hand, acknowledged this week that action on medical care is "right near the top" of the list of previous election campaign promises the Liberals want to complete before seeking a new mandate.

Mr. Gordon, a close political adviser of the prime minister, is known to favor an October election.

His comment helped set off a flurry of speculative reports that the near-consensus among provincial premiers in favor of Mr. Pearson's medical care proposal had clinched an October election.

Other cabinet sources said, however, that developments on medical care could adversely affect an October vote in at least two ways.

In the first place, they said, it has in a sense robbed the government of a reason to go to the people. How can a government that seems to be getting its way on such a major question tell the voters that it must have a new mandate to continue, they ask.

Secondly, an October election

PRIVACY ACCENT

Designed by architect R. B. W. Gordon of Toronto, this large three bedroom home places accent on privacy.

There are two private outdoor areas. The small front terrace courtyard is enclosed by a decorative screen which emphasizes the entrance to the house. A second out door area has been created by indenting part of the back veranda off the dining room. The master bedroom has its own bath and, together with the living section, is well separated from the children's bedrooms. The entrance should face north. The floor area is 1,410 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 50 feet, four inches by 38 ft. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 2330, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

ON THE PRAIRIES

Carpenters May Strike

EDMONTON (CP) — A government-supervised strike vote will be held Aug. 3 by carpenters at 18 of the 24 Edmonton area construction companies, Labor Minister Raymond Robinson said Friday. About 800 workers Tuesday rejected a contribution board award of a 50-cent-an-hour increase but about 100 workers accepted the offer. Carpenters currently receive $2.60 an hour.

TENANT PAYS TO COMPLAIN

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Landlord John Hewitt said today a tenant who refused to pay for repairs and fire hazards in his house was charged $5 an hour to listen to complaints from tenants in his house.

RCMP Ponder Banks' Books

MONTREAL (CP) — An RCMP officer visited the headquarters of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (IUC) in Montreal Thursday as part of an investigation of the personal financial records of former president Hal Banks.

Leonard McLaughlin, SIU president, said the federal police have been making visits for this purpose about once every three weeks in recent months. The RCMP officer checks back on union financial records and documents.

SIU officials believe the visit is in connection with an income tax case.

Hal Banks' house on Lakeshore Boulevard in suburban Pointe Claire has been for sale since shortly after Banks skipped Canada a year ago while out on $25,000 bail.

Some Slums Of Benefit Says UN Housing Report

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — A UN report on housing says some slums benefit their inhabitants and should be improved instead of torn down.

It complains that the dwindling size of houses and apartments is helping break up the three-generation household and separates old people from children and grandchildren.

An anonymous consultant wrote the report for a committee of the UN Social Commission. While aimed mainly at developing countries, it says its subject is of world-wide concern and important "in Moscow, Delhi, Lima and Chicago."

"The clearance of slums, including squatter towns," it declares, "should be kept to the minimum during the next few years."

"Few cities can afford to demolish any residential structure until the housing supply and number of new jobs are increased. But the improvement of slums, especially the improvement of sanitary conditions, should be greatly accelerated."

LISTS BENEFITS

The report lists four benefits that slum dwellers derive from the very fact that they live in slums.

Lack of legal and social controls: the low rents or low housing costs; proximity to the heart of the city where job opportunities are concentrated; and the traditional security that exists where persons live in natural groups of extended family, tribe, nationality, religion or caste.

"The lack of controls permits the slum dweller—all over the world—to do what he pleases in and with his dwelling," the document says.

"A woman can set up beauty parlor equipment in her living room, hang a sign in the front window and earn a living without paying shop rent. . . . Families can crowd together and lease a room or rooms to supplement their earnings."

"None of these activities are allowed to take place in a proper housing project. . . yet the only way that these poor households can make ends meet is by taking advantage of the national origin, the help will come in the form of a 'little credit over the weekend' or 'until payday' from the grocer on the corner."

New Look For Old Bathtub Starts With Amputating Legs

QUESTION: The old vacation place we have just bought has an old-fashioned bathtub, on legs, in a corner of the bathroom. We don't want to go to the expense of replacing the fixture, but is there any way we could enclose the bottom of the tub so it wouldn't look quite so dated?

ANSWER: Remove the legs, then support the tub flat, two lengths of 2 by 4" laid flat, to permit the tub to be wedged solidly into the corner of the room. Build a framework around the exposed side and end of the tub, then nail on metal lath and have a tile setter install a clay tile on a cement mortar bed. Match the color of the tile to the color of the walls. Or, instead of the tile you can nail on sheets of theboard (available in large sheets, in a variety of colors). Close the gaps around the top of the tub with metal lath and portland cement plaster, sloping the top so that water will drain into the tub. When dry, finish the cement top with a good grade of enamel, or finish with tile to match enclosure.

REPAIRING METAL BEDS QUESTION: How can we repair a pair of enameled metal beds? They are in good condition, but we want to change the color.

ANSWER: First dull the gloss of the present enamel coating by rubbing with steel wool or sandpaper, then wipe off the dust. Clean the surface with turpentine to remove all trace of the grease, wax, etc. Finish with an enamel undercoat and a good quality of metal enamel, either gloss or semigloss.

TALLOW ON TABLE TOP QUESTION: How can I remove several spots of tallow from candles on a mahogany top table?

ANSWER: With a dull knife blade, carefully scrape off as much of the solid deposit as possible. Then place a white blotter over the balance and run a warm iron over it, being careful not to allow the heat to remain too long. The heat will melt the residue and the blotter absorb it. Wipe off any stubborn residue with liquid spot remover.

WAX FOR RUBBER TILE QUESTION: I have rubber tile floors in kitchen and bathroom. These have several water stains or spots. How can I remove them? What kind of wax should be used on rubber tile?

ANSWER: Clean entire floor surface with hot water and mild detergent or mild soap. Rinse thoroughly with clear water to remove all trace of the cleaning solution. Otherwise wax will become smeary and is more likely to water-spot or discolor. Use only water base or self polishing wax on rubber tile.

WATER IN BASEMENT QUESTION: During a recent rain and thaw, I had a considerable amount of water seeping through the walls of my basement. This generally occurred where the walls and floor meet, and on all four sides. The basement is poured concrete and is approximately 35 years old. How can I remedy this?

ANSWER: There may have been a change recently in the water table in the area around your house. This should be carefully checked. The water pressure may have increased. Applying an epoxy concrete sealer

Bypass Built In 1930's Fulfills Old British Music Hall Joke

EXETER, England (CP) — The music hall joke about mother nipping into town for a leisurely hair-do while father takes the children over the Exeter bypass on route to the sunny south coast of Devon and Cornwall is based more on fact than a gag writer's imagination.

Each summer weekend thousands of holidaymakers from London and the north converge on the three-mile stretch of two-lane highway, armed with picnic lunches and family games to while away the hours of idling toward the "British Riviera."

But the bypass, built in 1936—as one observer put it "to keep the motorists from seeing the beauties of the ancient cathedral city"—is not the whole problem as far as the transport ministry is concerned.

"It's not that the road itself is inadequate," a ministry spokesman said in an interview. "It's just that so many roads converge at one point that traffic has no alternative route without going miles off course."

The government has allocated $60,000,000 to be spent during the next five years to ease "pinchpoints" in the area.

Undeterred by the prospect of up to three hours spent gazing at the rolling Devonshire hills, latticed with alternate fields of red clay and green crops, an estimated 2,000 motorists an hour crawl toward sandy beaches dotting the rugged coastline from Torquay to Land's End.

Automobile association officials have counted between 45,000 and 50,000 vehicles moving over the bypass daily during peak weekend periods. On three-day Bank Holiday weekends, backups often start four or five miles before the notorious stretch, leaving an eight-mile ribbon of glittering windshields strung out over the countryside.

Sum-tanned vendors offer their captive market ice cream, cold drinks and newspapers as motorists cool their tires at an agonizing three-mile-an-hour pace.

It has even been speculated that a gambling-minded driver could place a bet with a licensed turf accountant at one end of the bypass and read the race results at the other end in a late evening paper from London, 170 miles to the east.

Helpful Hints on Using RED-E-MIX CONCRETE

Red-E-Mix concrete should be placed immediately upon delivery as nearly as practical to its final position. Deposit the concrete in the forms at several places, for if the concrete is allowed to run or is worked over a long distance in the form, segregation will occur. Segregation results in low-quality concrete, stone pockets and other serious defects.

Paul wrote the Roman Christians, encouraging them to study also. — Acts 17:10-12; Romans 15:4-6.

Writing to his young friend and fellow minister, Timothy, Paul stresses the importance of public reading of and private meditation upon the scriptures, if he would save souls. — 1 Timothy 4:13-15.

In another letter to Timothy, Paul uses his own life as an example that all who are determined to live a godly life will be persecuted, but their salvation rests in God. — 1 Timothy 3:10-11.

Terming it divinely inspired, Paul sets the Bible as the supreme tool for the Christian's spiritual knowledge, equipping him as a true "man of God." — 1 Timothy 3:14-17.

Incident Of Luci Johnson Doesn't Destroy Accord

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholic and Episcopal (Anglican) Church representatives late last month had an unprecedented, mutual discussion of baptism. They found themselves in agreement.

But a furor has arisen on that same subject in connection with the baptism of Luci Johnson, formerly an Episcopalian, when she became a Roman Catholic.

The issue, in the view of church scholars, has deep ramifications for the ecumenical movement toward closer Christian unity.

Ever since Roman Catholicism stepped strongly into that movement, under impetus of the late Pope John XXIII, it has pointed to baptism of all Christians as the main basis for the work.

The theme has been emphasized by Augustin Cardinal Bea, head of the Vatican secretariat for Christian unity, in writings and lectures.

He, along with other Catholic leaders, has stressed that baptism of Christians — whatever their denomination — creates a fundamental, underlying tie between a Protestant, Orthodox and Catholic.

The Vatican council's historic decree of ecumenism, promulgated last December, makes the same point.

But the principle took a highly publicized shelling, in practice, at the rebaptism of the U.S. president's daughter.

That's what the repercussions are about.

It develops, however, that the fire was carried out at her request, not at insistence of the church.

In Roman Catholic teaching, any baptism is valid so long as it is performed with the right intent of joining a person to Christ and with use of water and the scriptural words, "in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost."

So long as these conditions are met, the baptism is considered valid in whatever denomination it is performed, whether by a layman or clergyman, and whether by pouring, sprinkling or immersion.

Rebaptism or "conditional baptism" is done in case of doubt about the validity of the prior baptism.

In general practice, Roman Catholic parishes and some Protestant churches, including many Baptists, have commonly rebaptized new members.

For Roman Catholics, this has been mainly a case of being sure about the matter.

This was a chief topic of discussion late last month at the first official, theological talks between representatives of the Episcopal Church and the U.S. Catholic bishops' commission on ecumenical relations.

The conference, including eight Episcopal scholars led by Bishop Donald Haddock of Milwaukee and seven Catholics headed by Bishop Charles McMane of Kansas City-St. Joseph, Mo., took place in Washington, D.C.

The participants agreed that the widespread practice of rebaptism or "conditional baptism" of Episcopalians received into the Roman Catholic Church does not conform with traditional Christian doctrine.

The Episcopalians agreed that confirmed Catholics received into the Episcopal Church should not be circumcised or "conditionally confirmed" by Episcopal bishops.

In both cases, they agreed, the practices reflect on the authenticity of sacraments previously administered in the other church.

In a joint statement, the participants said they rejoiced at the new possibilities for jointly held services and common prayer, and "we encourage our people to take advantage of them."

The Luci Johnson situation brought out a less harmonious note. But the incident doesn't change the underlying accord on the matter.

Interdenominational Merger Urged By South Africa Cleric

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — Rev. Barend Naude, director of South Africa's multiracial Christian Institute, has called on the South Africa's churches to form an interdenominational movement similar to one started by churches in Hitler's Germany.

He made the call in a long article in the latest issue of Pro Veritate, the institute's monthly magazine, of which he is editor.

Naude said: "It must be elements in its race policy."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) Which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Labatts On Field Tonight At 8:30

Fresh from a week lay-off the Kelowna Labatts start tonight on a hectic week of Senior B men's baseball which entails four games in six days.

North Kamloops Stars finish tonight's competition. Game time is 8:30 p.m. at Elks Stadium.

On Sunday Labatts travel to Vernon then go to Kamloops twice next week, on Tuesday and Thursday.

The Labatts are now engaged in a fight to improve their play-off position and a sweep of these games would virtually assure them of third place.

Pastor Dave Hjelmvoll is coach Alf Davy's choice to start on the mound for the Labatts.

North Kamloops will counter with Al Kellogg.

Back in the fold tonight will be Bill Martine, perennial all-star, who has been out of town on business and will be starting in the wide open spaces of centre field.

Last weekend the Labs split with the Columbia-Dodge from New Westminster. In Sunday's game, Gerry (goat) Robertson matched his total season's output of home runs. The goit tag was a two-run shot in the sixth inning and his game winning blast in the bottom of the ninth.

In both games the Labs threw was particularly effective with both Les Schaefer and Dave Hjelmvoll looking very good.

Maury Wills Tries His Best But Dodgers Still Lose Game

By MIKE RAYNEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maury Wills, the 1966 Los Angeles Dodger collected five base hits, made two bases for a total of 64 and won an impromptu foot race against Bill White and still the Dodgers managed to lose, dropping their third in a row 4-3 to St. Louis Cardinals in 12 innings at their National League lead dwindled to 1½ games over Cincinnati Reds Friday night.

White had two 1-1 with a homer in the second, when Wills scored his second run, in the sixth, before Dodger Don Drysdale, who was not involved in the decision, made it 3-1 with his fifth homer of the season in the seventh.

In the 17th, Mike Shannon doubled, Ken Hoyer singled, and the Cardinals won.

The Reds, meanwhile, closed ground as Frank Robinson struck four hits and Joey Jay allowed only three in a 3-1 victory over Houston Astros.

Elsewhere Bob Friend pitched a one-hitter in Pittsburgh Pirates' 6-0 victory over Chicago Cubs, San Francisco Giants defeated Milwaukee Braves 4-0, and the Braves won their streak with a 5-1 victory and New York Mets edged Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 in 10 innings.

Jose Cardenal Leading Hitter For Los Angeles Angels

By MURRAY CHAM
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jose Cardenal who gets a green light for stealing, doesn't stop at running for Los Angeles Angels.

Cardenal, 21, became the Angels' leading all-around hitter Friday night as Los Angeles defeated Boston 7-3, handing the floundering Red Sox their 19th loss in the last 23 games.

The rookie, the American League's No. 2 base stealer, didn't add to his total of 20, but he did collect a three-run homer, a double and two singles.

The performance, his best of the season, increased his average to .275, his runs batted in total to 20 and his home run total to nine. He leads the Angels in the first two categories and trails Willie Smith by two in home runs, over-all an unusual feat for a leadoff batter.

In other American League games, Baltimore Orioles edged Minnesota Twins 3-2, Cleveland Indians defeated New York Yankees 5-2, Detroit Tigers sniped Chicago White Sox 6-0 and Washington Senators trimmed Kansas City Athletics 5-3.

Portland Squeaks By Spokane In Pacific Coast League Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Portland scored a single run in both of the last two innings Friday night to edge Spokane 3-2 in a Pacific Coast League baseball game.

By doing so, the Beavers kept their lead in the Western Division while second-place Seattle also was winning, taking a 5-2 victory from Tacoma.

The Oklahoma City Stars kept their hold on top place in the Eastern Division. Their game with the Denver Bears was rained out in the bottom of the fifth, and a doubleheader was scheduled for Saturday.

San Diego beat Indianapolis 3-1, Arkansas edged Salt Lake 5-4, and Hawaii dumped Vancouver 5-2.

Canadian Officials Grateful Diver Snubbed For Olympics

RED DEER (CP) — Gordon Creed of Vancouver, who came to Canada after a year in Australia, was snubbed for a berth on the Australian Olympic team, Friday gave Canadian officials reason to be grateful he was snubbed.

Creed, 20, produced a virtually flawless demonstration as he captured the senior men's one-metre springboard title on the first day of the 1968 Canadian swimming and diving championships.

He was joined in the winners' circle by perennial champion Judy Stewart of Toronto, Nancy Robertson of Edmonton and Peter Emmond of Toronto.

Miss Stewart captured the senior women's one-metre title and Miss Robertson and Emmond shared junior three-metre honors.

A member of the 1962 Australian team in the British Empire Games, Creed captured the national men's trials for the 1968 Olympics, but the Australian selection committee overlooked him in favor of an additional female competitor.

He has been in Canada just a few months and is not eligible to join a 20-member Canadian team travelling to Britain and Europe next month.

"I knew I would not be making the trip," he said after his victory, "so there is no reason for me to be disappointed."

Creed said he hopes to use his good showing here as a step toward berth on Canadian teams in the British Empire Games in 1968 and the 1968 Olympics.

Although Creed will not make the trip, Miss Stewart, 21, certainly will be chosen. She won the Canadian all-around women's title every year since 1961.

There were no indications Friday who would be selected along with Miss Stewart. Senior men's and women's three-metre springboard and 10-metre platform competitions, to be completed today and Sunday, will have a bearing on selection of the five member diving team.

Eskimos Win Third Straight

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Edmonton Eskimos stretched their unbroken string of exhibition football wins to three Friday night while Saskatchewan Roughriders gained their first in a last-quarter punch.

In a Canadian Football League battle at Edmonton, 10,000 fans watched the Eskimos down Ottawa Rough Riders 21-18 with Eskimo quarterback Bill Tobin counting three touchdowns.

At Regina, the Roughriders unleashed their offence in the final quarter to overcome a 6-1 deficit and edge their Western Football Conference Rivals Winnipeg Blue Bombers, 9-6 before 10,200 fans.

TORONTO (CP) — British Columbia Lions engineered plays in mid-season form here Thursday night in rolling up a 19-8 exhibition win over Toronto Argonauts before 19,637 Canadian Football League fans.

It was the Lions' second exhibition win in four pre-season games this year while Toronto suffered their second setback in as many games.

Joe Kapp, the 26-year-old graduate of the University of California who led B.C. to a 1964 Grey Cup victory, was the sparkplug on the Lions' offence.

Six Florida Men To Ski Atlantic — ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Six St. Petersburg men Friday announced plans to water ski across the Atlantic Ocean in relay next summer.

The 5,000-mile trip is charted through the South Atlantic, with scheduled stops at Bermuda, the Azores, Lisbon and, tentatively, Le Havre, France, as final destination.

The skiers say they will be towed by a 25-foot ocean racing boat powered by two 110-horsepower engines. The team will ski one at a time in four-hour shifts.

As a trial run, the team will make a Miami-to-Nassau run in September.

Sentimental Feature Attraction As Old Dodgers Play Old Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers are going to play New York Giants Saturday at Shea Stadium as the sentimental feature attraction of New York Mets' Old Timers Day.

After the old Dodgers and Giants, who pre-date the Los Angeles and San Francisco versions, have played a few innings, the Mets will meet the Phillies in a regularly scheduled National League game.

Six Hall of Famers will be on hand including Max Carey, Frank Frisch, Earl Grimes, Carl Hubbell, Ed Roush and Zach Wheat.

The Dodgers can call on Carl Erskine, Don Newcombe, Ralph Branca, Van Mungo or Grimes to do the pitching. The Giants will have available such pitchers as Sal Maglie, Rube Marquard, Jim Hoern, Hal Schumacher and Hubbell.

Branca probably will be called upon to face Bobby Thomson once more in another replay of that famous playoff game of 1951 which decided the National League pennant.

Brown had testified he "didn't lay a finger on" Brenda Ayres, who accused him of slapping her on the face, stomach and hip and having sex relations with her after giving her whisky.

He said Brenda knocked on his motel room door at 3 a.m. June 20 and wanted to talk, and they talked until he went to play golf about 5 a.m., leaving her $5 for taxi fare home.

The defence argued that injuries shown on Brenda's body in photographs introduced by the prosecution had been inflicted by someone other than Brown.

ish three spade tricks for the defense. This eventually leaves South a trick short of the contract.

However, if South exercises some slight ingenuity, he may succeed in stealing the contract. Suppose he takes the opening lead with the ace of spades and returns a low heart at trick two.

If West plays the eight, which is what most players would do, South is home. He wins the heart run, gets in with the aces and clubs, forcing out the ace. This method of play ultimately produces nine tricks.

However, if West goes up with the ace of hearts at trick two and returns a spade, he defeats the contract. He should look with suspicion on the early heart play because it is not normal for South to be attacking dummy's suit clubs with a broken heart suit.

So, if West is on his toes, he will see through declarer's scheme and rise to the occasion to defeat the contract.

FOR TOMORROW
Sunday will be an excellent time in which to participate in sports, travel and group activities generally. Also favored are such outdoor pursuits as agriculture and horticulture.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart promises occupational advancement and a very sharp uptrend in your financial status during the next year. Do not, however, let undue optimism lead you into extravagance and/or speculation, however—especially during the first two weeks of September and in January—or you could weaken your position. Best periods for gain: The first two weeks of August, between mid-September and mid-November, next February, April and June. Most propitious cycles, job-wise: late September, early December, January, March and May. Domestic, social and sentimental relationships will be governed by excellent influences during most of the year, with emphasis on romance between August 15 and September 15 during the last six weeks of 1965 and next May and June; or travel and stimulating social activities next January, May and July. Only short trips are recommended for the balance of 1965.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Pleasant stellar influence will make Monday a fine period for both business and personal standpoints. Look for a step up in all activities, but do not overtax yourself on any count.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a happy and prosperous year. You will surely enter a cycle which should be excellent from a financial standpoint, but do operate conservatively — especially during the first two weeks in September and during January. Carelessness during those periods could offset those gains which are slar-promised during the first two weeks in August, between mid-September and mid-November, next February, April and June. Good opportunities for job and/or business advancement are indicated in late September, early December, January, March and May.

Splendid influences govern your personal life, too, with emphasis on romance between August 15 and September 15 between November 15 and January 1, next May and June; or travel next January, May and July. Short trips taken between now and September could prove enjoyable, but long journeys are not advised in this period. It would be wise to keep your nose to the grindstone.

A child born on this day will be highly energetic, ambitious and gregarious.

Provincial Government Grant Sought For Recreation Chief

VERNON — The Recreation Commission heard President John Bruce report a grant of $80 had been received from the provincial government's community programs branch, department of education.

This amounts to 10 per cent of the costs of programs for pool and parks attendants for Vernon.

Now that a full-time recreation director has been employed, the Vernon Recreation Commission will make application for the grant available to assist in this cost.

Official notification of the addition of a full-time recreation director will be sent to Victoria immediately by John Bruce.

Notice of the annual conference of the recreation commission was received by the conference to take place in the Lumby Community Hall, October 5, 1965.

A motion to pay the account submitted by Pioneer Saw and Lumber in the amount of $59.00 was passed. Nick Turk had been instructed to buy three paddleboards for the Kalamalka Lake beach, which cost $59.00. John Zahara recreation director reported that the boards were entirely satisfactory. It was suggested that the boards be marked to prevent use without permission of one of the attendants at the beach.

Reporting to the Vernon Recreation Commission on the parks committee Vern Dye said that the fence was being installed at Lakeview Park for the baseball outfield. He suggested the fence be installed on the outside posts, instead of inside.

Dave McKay said he would attend to this matter. The work at Lakeside Park is almost Nick Turk recommended to the commission that consideration be given to appointing a woman to fill the vacancy on the commission. This suggestion met with the wholehearted approval of the members of the board.

A suggestion that the recreational director be appointed to the board of the new recreation centre convention committee was voted by the commission. In view of the fact that he would be in charge of general programming for the centre when it is complete.

Mr. Zahara was also instructed to give some thought to the staffing and maintenance of the centre and to present suggestions at a later date.

In regard to the staffing of the swimming pool which will be part of the new recreation centre, Dave McKay said he had had conversation with Anne Moraw of Vancouver who had indicated that she would like to be considered for the position of swimming instructor at the new swimming pool when it that there were now five life-
